About

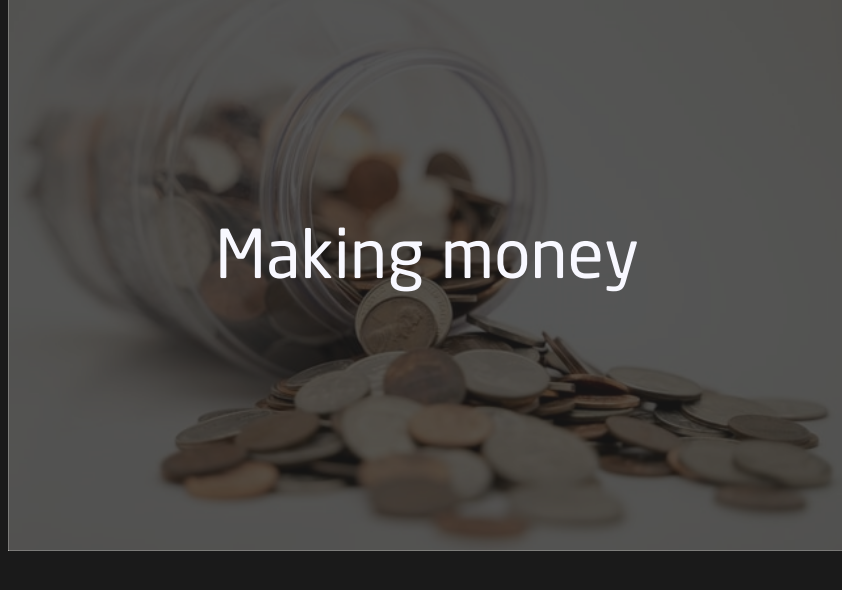

Hi, I'm Joshua

I am an aspiring Front End Developer. I am a husband and father with one on the way. I love programming and building new things. My goal is to create an application someday that will drastically help the normal person become more organized, habitual, and happy!

When I graduated high school in 2015 I didn't know what I wanted to do with my life. I was detail oriented, systems driven, and loved to build things. The problem was that I was never exposed to the concept of programming. Because of this, I was unsure about my dream occupation for a few years. I met my wife Lauren in the time and we got married a year after dating each other. After a couple years of being married, I decided to pursue computer science at Concordia University and haven't looked back!
